Dr. Teresa M. DiStefano Takes Leadership Role at RHR International's Central Region

CHICAGO -- (BUSINESS WIRE) -- Dr. Teresa DiStefano, a Senior Partner with RHR International, has been appointed regional leader of the firm's United States Central Region. In this role, she leads RHR's consulting team and business presence in the Chicago Metro area and other major Midwest markets. Her predecessor, Dr. Grant Levitan, is rotating back to full time client work after balancing operational responsibilities and consulting duties for several years.

As a consultant, Dr. DiStefano's professional specialties focus on the assessment, selection and development of senior level executives; building cooperation, expediting problem solving, and enhancing corporate effectiveness through team development; and effective change management during periods of organizational transition. She has worked in a number of business environments including large corporations, financial institutions, academia, and government.

"Dr. DiStefano has spent the last two years successfully handling major Account Management responsibilities, as well as being involved in key sales initiatives," said Dr. Thomas J. Saporito, Chairman and CEO of RHR International. "I fully expect she will bring this focus, and her natural enthusiasm, to her new role."

Dr. DiStefano received both a bachelor's degree in Public Administration and a master's degree in Labor and Industrial Relations from Michigan State University. She holds a second master's and doctorate degree in Counseling Psychology from Western Michigan University. She has published numerous articles and book chapters on issues of diversity. Dr. DiStefano is also a member of the American Psychological Association.
